

Disaster Behavioral Health Summit

April 23, 2008

Graciously hosted by

The Cook Inlet Tribal Council

8:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

When disasters strike, mental health/substance abuse agencies and local service providers are suddenly thrust onto the frontline for response and recovery efforts.

The purpose of the Disaster Behavioral Health Summit is:

- ☛ Increase visibility and foster ongoing communication on disaster behavioral health across agencies.
- ☛ Provide expertise to agencies around disaster behavioral health issues.
- ☛ Identify gaps in existing resources and make recommendations to address them.

Please RSVP by emailing: register@acmhs.com. Space is limited. There will be a continental breakfast provided from 8:00 a.m. to 8:20 a.m. as well as a light lunch. For additional information contact John Sperbeck at 907-261-5380 or jsperbeck@acmhs.com.

Funding was made possible through:

The TRUST
The Alaska Mental Health
Trust Authority

This is a collaborative training through the SOA, MOA and its Emergency Operations Center, Anchorage Community Mental Health Services, Christian Health Associates, Alaska Police and Fire Chaplains Ministries, and the AK-PA Disaster Response Network.

The Cook Inlet Tribal Council is located at 3600 San Jeronimo Drive.
